

 www.aom.pace.org

ACADEMY OF MANAGEMENT – a large professional organization interested in the development of scholars in the field of management. The website includes access to the journal publications, people connections, membership options, meetings, career center, and professional development. There are options to advertise within the journals and/or to post job positions, both through the Products and Services link.

 www.phdproject.com

THE PHD PROJECT – an organization of professional associations, corporations and institutions whose goal is to promote diversity, specifically in business school related faculties. To receive benefits, you must be a member or sponsor. There is a listing of participating Universities, both doctoral granting and non-doctoral granting, along with a couple links to Academic Job Sites.