OMP Study Break and Graduation Recognition

Don't forget to take a break from your studying! Please stop by the Office of Multicultural Programs on Wednesday, May 6th between 1 and 4 pm for refreshments. Graduating seniors will be given a small gift to remember us by, and hearty congratulations for a job well done!

NDSU Tribal and Indigenous Peoples Studies

This course provides an overview of the theoretical, historical, political, and ethical frameworks of the discipline, an introduction to Indigenous Peoples of the World, and some of the important issues affecting these groups. The department of sociology and anthropology will be offering a new course this summer entitled Tribal and Indigenous Peoples Studies. The course will be offered during the first 4 weeks of the summer session (May 19-June 12) from 9:00-11:15 in Music Ed 113.

AISES Summer Internship!

The AISES (American Indian Science and Engineering Society) Summer Internship Program provides students with relevant work experience and an opportunity to explore career options. Placing students in 10-week summer positions with partner agencies, the program promotes advanced study to the graduate level and assists students in developing professional networks.

AISES is happy to announce that we currently have internship positions available with our partners at the US Bureau of Land Management (Arizona) and the Bonneville Power Administration (Pacific Northwest). More positions are expected to be added to this list in the next few weeks.

The application deadline is May 31, 2015, at 11:59 p.m. MDT. If you have questions, please email Tina Farrenkopf at tfarrenkopf@aises.org or call her at our Colorado field Office at 720-552-6123 or www.aises.org.
