EVERY YEAR IT'S THE SAME THING. I RESOLVE TO LOSE A TON, AND YOU SAY YOU'RE GOING TO CONTROL YOUR ANGER.

RESOLUTIONS? ME?? JUST WHAT ARE YOU IMPLYING? THAT I NEED TO CHANGE?? WELL, BUDDY, AS FAR AS I'M CONCERNED, I'M PERFECT THE WAY I AM!

Well, those resolutions had a short shelf life.

How to Job Search

By: Iddrisu Awudu
University Village Complex Manager

- ✦ Start early. It is never too early to make that first contact.
- ✦ Before companies interview you, interview them. Informational interviewing can be an effective early step in the career search. Talk to as many representatives at the company as possible, expanding your web of contacts and perhaps lay the groundwork for them to interview you later.
- ✦ Who you know is as important as what you know. The methods may have changed, but old-fashioned networking is key to landing a dream job.
- ✦ Befriend the people who work at the Career Center. It will help you learn about the hot openings, schedule campus interviews and make early connections. Visit as a freshman, and let the counselors know your interests. Stop in occasionally and, as a senior, make the Career Center your second home.
- ✦ An internship is like a job interview that lasts three months. Nothing looks better on a resume than “been there, done that.” Firms often design internships as a recruiting method. Freshmen and sophomores should pursue internship possibilities with the same aggressiveness as seniors pursue employment. Apply just as you would for a job, with a resume and cover letter tailored to the company’s needs.
- ✦ Accept the interview, even if you don’t want the job. When recruiters come to campus, sign up for every possible interview session you can — even if it’s with a company you don’t want to work for. The Career Center offers mock interviews for practice.
- ✦ Employers are more interested in your skills than fancy fonts or colorful resumes. Resumes should be clean and professional, but a basic look will do.
- ✦ Keep applying until you run out of time or money. Keep a list of the actions you take with specific companies, and don’t make promises to call or send more information when you can’t follow through.
- ✦ If you don’t land your dream job, aim for something close. Don’t lose sight of why you chose the course of study you did and what you want to do in your career.
