Susan Ray-Degges
Associate Professor

Apparel, Design and Hospitality Management

Hot Colors for the New Year, what do color experts predict for 2010? Plus the new wave of design trends that can make your home look more like you! Susan Ray-Degges will highlight what to look for in design trends for 2010 and how to make your home interior a safe and healthy environment.

Ray-Degges, associate professor in interior design and coordinator for the interior design program, explores interior design applications that will allow individuals to successfully “Age in Place.” She is a faculty member of the Apparel, Design and Hospitality Management Department.
