

Strikes

Running crew, cast members, and all selected theatre arts majors and minors are required to attend all strikes. Strike is normally held immediately following the final performance. The technical director supervises strike and determines the work that needs to be accomplished.