

History & Folksong

Presentation & Discussion by Prof. Tom Isern

Folksongs offer a fun and alternative view of the events of history. They speak from the point of view of ordinary people, presenting the consensus from the grassroots. They can be funny, frank, and sometimes scandalous. Following up on folksong presentations featured in his History courses, Dr. Isern will sing and invite discussion of several folksongs dealing with historical events. Got one of your own to share? Feel free!

Students in Isern's HIST 104 or 381 classes: This program can be used as a make-up for one class day's attendance-participation points.
