

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

MISSION STATEMENT

SEPTEMBER 1995

The College of Science and Mathematics within the University is committed to delivering academic programs, conduct research and provide public service of the highest quality. Faculty are expected to participate in all three areas. The college's expectation is that research and other scholarly activities will provide the vitality and relevance necessary for superior instruction and public service. To assure this, the quality of all NDSU's activities is periodically assessed through internal reviews by faculty committees, and where appropriate, external reviews by regional or national accrediting agencies.
