Livestock & Horse Judging Clinic and Reasons Workshop Information

This clinic is intended for 4-H and FFA members along with coaches, exhibitors, parents, club leaders. Anyone who wants to learn more about judging and giving reasons is welcome! Those interested in becoming a North Dakota 4-H/Open Show Certified Judge along with all others with an interest in learning about equine and livestock evaluation are invited to join us.

The morning session participants will learn how to efficiently and effectively take notes for classes and transform those notes into an organized set of reasons while learning the basics of judging a livestock or halter horses. This format will prepare participants for taking notes and judging livestock or performance classes following conformation. The focus will be on rules from AQHA (2019) and horse/livestock judging criteria used to evaluate each class. The morning part of the clinic will cover the basics of a class via PowerPoint followed by DVD examples and concluding with a class to judge of four livestock or horses via DVD to bring together what was learned. Livestock animals covered include goat, sheep, swine and beef cattle. The PowerPoint educational session for each discipline/breed covered will be geared towards a basic understanding of terminology and class structure. This section will cover movement, introductory anatomy, ground level conformation and basic class structure for each judging class. The clinic will also focus on scoring systems for: horsemanship, equitation, trail, and ranch riding (if time allows for all classes). Livestock participants will cover sample questions and performance data examples. Individuals will get practice using the score sheets and evaluating maneuvers and penalties for equine scored classes.

Following the morning session, each class judged throughout the day will be an opportunity to develop a set of reasons to be critiqued. Reasons structure will be covered along with reasons terminology, accuracy, and delivery.

There will be no live horses or livestock at this workout.

4-H/Open Show Judges Certification Information
Sunday, February 17 at 9:00 AM we will cover the Danish System and answer any questions. If you are wanting a refresher on judging you should attend Saturday’s events as classes will NOT be covered on Sunday. Saturday will give you an opportunity to cover halter, western pleasure, hunter under saddle, western horsemanship, hunt seat equitation, trail and ranch riding. Engaging in reasons discussion will also help you as a judge, to prepare for speaking in front of participants and families upon completion of judging your classes at a show. Those wanting to take the judges exam will then take their closed book, 50 question test. Questions will come from the updated 2018 ND 4-H Horse Show Rules and Judging Guide which can be found on our website.
