State 4-H Horse Judging Contest Rules

General Information
The North Dakota 4-H horse judging contest provides an opportunity for youth enrolled in 4-H horse projects to enhance their equine evaluation and selection skills. Additionally, a judging contest improves their communication and decision-making skills, giving them invaluable life skills toward career development. The purpose of the 4-H horse judging contest is to teach youth how to evaluate horses and how to make and defend their decisions. Participants will judge classes that include halter and performance classes. Participants then will prepare sets of oral reasons and meet one-on-one with an official to describe the reasons for their class placement. Competition in horse judging fosters self-confidence, organization, critical thinking, teamwork skills and oral communication skills. Just as important, this contest advances their knowledge of the equine industry, giving youth the tools to help select horses for longevity and athleticism. This contest provides an educational program for all project members, including those who may not own a project animal.

The winning 4-H senior team will have a choice to represent North Dakota at the national 4-H horse judging contest at the Western National Roundup in Denver, Colo.

Objectives and Outcomes:
- Stimulate learning in equine science and agricultural industry
- Youth develop positive interests and attitudes about equine evaluation, animal science and related careers
- Youth gain a base of knowledge of equine projects
- Youth will utilize skills and abilities to solve everyday situations
- Youth gain valuable producer experience
- Reward 4-H members for knowledge gained in a subject matter area
- Provide a competitive setting where attitudes of friendliness and fairness prevail
- Participants will process information, analyze complex scenarios and make informed decisions based on breed association rules and apply those rules to difficult decisions
- Youth develop teamwork, self-confidence, public speaking and decision-making skills
- An increased number of participants seek higher education opportunities and careers related to animal and equine science

3. If tied for an individual or team overall award, the contestant or team having the highest overall reasons score shall be listed first.
4. If still tied for 1 or 3 above, the contestant or team having the highest score in placing reasons classes shall be listed first.

6. If still tied, the contestant or team with the highest single class reasons score will be listed first.
7. If contestants still are tied from above, the youngest contestant or team shall be listed first.
Description of Cuts

Cuts, as specified in the NHJTCA Handbook:

1. Horses are extremely similar; no obvious reason why one should be placed over the other; or both horses have numerous faults and none supersedes the others; placing is strictly a matter of personal preference; placing varies among official judges – will result in a small cut (0 to 2).

2. Horses are very close, but one horse has one or two qualitative or quantitative advantages; the majority of official judges would not switch the pair, but half of the contestants logically could switch the pair – will result in a small to medium cut (1 to 2).

3. Horses are of unequal quality, but a logical placing exists in favor of one horse; one horse has several faults or several advantages; all official judges would agree on the placing; no more than one third of contestants would be expected to switch the pair – will result in a medium cut (3 to 4).

4. Horses are not of similar quality; one horse has several decided advantages based on many points; all experts would see the placing quickly; no guesswork or personal preference is required to make a placing; no more than 10% of contestants would be expected to switch the pair – will result in a larger cut (4 to 5).

5. A large number of extreme differences exist between the horses; placing is obvious to everyone on a first, quick observation; careful study is not required for the placing; pair consists of an inferior horse vs. a consistent winner; only very inexperienced, uninformed contestants would switch the pair – will result in a large cut (4 to 6).

6. A horse is not even comparable; differences reflective of a champion-quality horse or performance vs. a horse or performance that is not of show quality – will result in a large cut (5 to 6).

7. Largest cut; differences reflective of a world-class halter horse vs. an extremely poor-quality or lame horse; or a world-class performance vs. a disqualified performance – largest cut (7).

The total of the three cuts for a class of four animals shall not exceed 15 or a negative score may result. The middle cut may never exceed 5 points when the cuts add to 15 or exceed 8 points when the cuts add to 14 or a negative score may result. An understanding of how placings are tabulated should benefit the youth judge, coach, parent, 4-H leader, teacher, volunteer and Extension agent.

Awards

1. Senior and junior 4-H division participants are eligible for the following awards:
   a. Individual ribbon awards for the top 10 individuals and top three teams overall
   b. Awards for the five high individuals in each judging phase and reasons
   c. Ribbons will be awarded to approximately the top 30% to 50% of the participants, depending on the amount of participants entered in the contest.

2. Open division participants are eligible for the following awards:
   a. FFA will provide awards to FFA participants

3. Score sheets and/or rulebooks may be used at any time during the judging portion of the contest.
Officials
To provide a rewarding experience for our youth, volunteers are key to the successful operation and efficiency of each contest. If you would like to serve as an official during the state 4-H horse judging contest, please send an email to LeighAnn.Skurupey@ndsu.edu.

1. Superintendent(s): The superintendent oversees all aspects of the contest; assists contestants and other officials; arranges for qualified judges; publicizes the contest; ensures the rules are updated; arranges for and selects animals for classes; secures other officials, supplies and paperwork to run the contest efficiently; establishes the contest on Judgincard.com and develops the contest within the system; introduces the contests and ensures the PA system is working; works to ensure results, reasons and classes are being conducted in a professional and timely manner; and assists in presenting and posting awards.

2. Moderator(s): The moderator should be knowledgeable in horse judging procedures, guidelines and regulations. The moderator assumes complete direction of the contest (also may be the superintendent), calls the rotation of the animals and the participants during the judging phase, and gathers the official placings and cuts for tabulation.

3. Judge(s): A judge can be anyone with a strong background in horse judging. Classes will be placed in accordance with the rules of the respective breed association rules. The judges will make informed decisions on the official placing for each class. Along with the moderator, they will come to an agreement on official cuts based on the difficulty or ease of placing each class. The judges may or may not be used as reasons takers. Judges should give reasons for the class placings and official placings/cuts after the contest is complete and before the awards ceremony.

4. Timekeeper: The timekeeper will monitor the elapsed time for each timed rotation of profile views of a horse, allowing two minutes for each view/close inspection to be judged, and giving adequate time for each rotation to settle in prior to starting the time clock after each rotation.

5. Reasons taker(s): The reasons taker is an industry professional knowledgeable about horses. Reasons takers listen to each participant to evaluate the content, accuracy, emphasis, completeness, terminology and presentation for each class. Reasons takers should make their best effort to score consistently throughout the contest. If more than one reasons taker is used for a class, reasons takers will listen to the first three sets together and collectively score them to make every attempt to maintain uniformity. Reasons takers should be on the same page when participants read off their notes (highest score allowed being 25 points).

6. Horse handlers: They assist with handling/riding horses. They help lead, groom, tack or hold horses if needed.

7. Group leaders: They are volunteers, coaches, chaperones or agents who assist with leading each group of contestants during the rotation of classes. They are responsible for collecting cards from each participant when the class is complete. They are the only individuals who participants are allowed to talk to during the judging portion of the contest. Group leaders help ensure participants are not talking among themselves and report illegal behavior (cellphones, talking, cheating, etc.) to the superintendent or moderator.

8. Tabulators: They collect reasons cards and scantrons. They also help input reasons scores into the JudgingCard.com system and double-check the top 10 individuals for each category.

9. Reasons room advisers: They help ensure that participants are not talking to each other and the volume of voices is held at an appropriate level for contestants to work and respect each other. They also ensure that participants are not conversing with each other.

10. Hallway advisers: They are beneficial in helping participants find their way to their respective reasons rooms. Hallway advisers also ensure that participants are not conversing with each other.

11. Extra volunteers: They help with assembling and passing out lunch. They also may help with registration desk and may run scorecards and reasons cards to the tabulation room.
