Congratulations on being awarded a Cultural Diversity Tuition Waiver. Here are important items you need to know regarding your waiver.

The purpose of this award is to serve and support traditionally underrepresented students attending North Dakota State University.

For the purpose of the waiver, cultural diversity is defined as anyone who comes from the following underrepresented groups:

- Native American/American Indian
- Alaska Native
- African American/Black
- Asian
- Hawaiian Native/Other Pacific Islander
- Hispanic/Latino
- Multiracial/Multiethnic (from the above categories)
- Refugee/Permanent Resident

The award is a need-based award and the majority of recipients show high financial need as determined by the Free Application for Student Aid (FAFSA). The waiver is a part of a student’s financial aid and will be listed on the Student Aid Report.

In addition to cultural diversity and financial need, priority is given to:

- Students with high financial need (based on results of completed 2018-2019 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as of February 1, 2018
- First-generation college students
- Students who are single parents
- North Dakota residents
- Enrolled members of a Native American/American Indian tribe or Alaska Native Village

Note: Students must be enrolled full time and working toward their first degree.
REQUIREMENTS

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS MUST

• Be a United States citizen or permanent resident.
• Meet with the Cultural Diversity Tuition Waiver Guide coordinator in the Office of Admission prior to leaving NDSU for any reason and complete the Scholarship Exception/Appeal Form, which can be found at ndsu.edu/onestop/forms. Upon returning to NDSU, students need to reactivate their student status with the Office of Registration and Records and notify the Office of Admission. Every semester of non-enrollment at NDSU still counts toward the original time limit of four consecutive years (eight consecutive semesters, excluding summer terms).

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

• Undergraduate students will receive the award for four consecutive years (eight consecutive semesters, excluding summer terms) or until graduation – whichever comes first.
• Once the first semester at NDSU has been completed, students will continue to automatically receive the waiver each semester they are enrolled and eligible or until the time limit of the award is reached.
• The Cultural Diversity Tuition Waiver covers the North Dakota undergraduate base tuition rate, regardless of student status. Differential tuition is not covered under the waiver. Students who are residents of a state other than North Dakota, are responsible for the remaining tuition cost.
• Students must be enrolled full time.
• Students may not use any other type of waiver, assistantship or fellowship with the Cultural Diversity Tuition Waiver.
• The waiver does not cover transportation, fees, books, room, board or other costs of attendance. Students may use other forms of financial aid to cover these costs.

Note: You are only allowed one Cultural Diversity Tuition Waiver while attending NDSU.

LOSING ELIGIBILITY

Students may lose eligibility to receive the Cultural Diversity Tuition Waiver. Those who may lose the award are:

• Students on financial aid disqualification. For the waiver to be reinstated, students must successfully appeal their financial aid disqualification. The Standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress appeal form can be found at www.ndsu.edu/onestop/forms. Students on financial aid warning, probation or plan of study are still eligible to receive the Cultural Diversity Waiver.

STUDENT ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Students are required to meet the Standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress each semester at NDSU. Basic standards are maintaining a 2.0 grade-point average each semester, and over the course of their program (cumulative). Transfer students are encouraged to visit the max credit hour limitations. Students can find a complete explanation of Student Academic Progress guidelines by visiting www.ndsu.edu/onestop/finaid/sap. Any appeal to Student Academic Progress needs to be turned in at One Stop or Student Financial Services.
