

Graduate Student Advisor Request Form

Department of Construction Management and Engineering
North Dakota State University

Instruction: Each graduate student must fill out the New Graduate Student Advisor Request Form in his/her first semester at NDSU. Student must set up and meet with each faculty member in the CM&E Department. After each meeting, their signatures along with the date must be obtained. The completed form with signatures from all faculty must be turned in to the CM&E office, Engineering 106. The Graduate Program Coordinator will then contact the faculty member(s) based on the student's preference, finalize the selection process, and let the student know the result. After that, the student is required to set up an initial meeting with his/her advisor.
