

Working In Native Directions (WIND) meeting

Meeting time: Monday, January 29th, 2018 from 11:30 to 1:00pm at the Memorial Union Arikara room.

Meeting notes

Dr. Melanie Nadeau welcomed everyone and gave a brief overview of how Working In Native Directions (WIND) originated. More information about WIND and previous meetings can be found at https://www.ndsu.edu/centers/american_indian_health/wind/

Dr. Nadeau also gave a brief overview of the American Indian Public Health Resource Center. More information about the Center can be found at https://www.ndsu.edu/centers/american_indian_health/

Dr. Nadeau then introduced the first presenter, Netia Richards, who is the Tribal Program Outreach Coordinator with the Upper Great Plains Transportation Institute here at NDSU. Netia shared information about current efforts with Tribal communities. A brief Q&A followed Netia's discussion.

Dr. Nadeau then introduced the 2nd presenter, Dr. Gary A. Goreham who is a professor in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology here at NDSU. Dr. Goreham presented on Integrating Teaching Practices with Tribal College Universities and Land Grant Universities. He shared NDSU's connection with Sisseton Wahpeton College to promote Social Science STEM education for their students. A brief Q&A followed Dr. Goreham's presentation.

Dr. Nadeau thanked everyone for coming and said the presentations slides and meeting notes would be posted on the WIND website. Dr. Nadeau will also notify members once the next meeting is scheduled.
