

International Writing Centers Week 2016

Tuesday, February 16: “Fun with Word Games”

10:30 am-2 pm Lobby of Memorial Union

(Sponsored by the NDSU Undergraduate Center for Writers)

Stop by our contact table to pick up candy, play word games, and learn about services provided by the Undergraduate Center for Writers.

Wednesday, February 17: “Write Like Shakespeare”

2 pm-3 pm Room of Nations, FLC

(Sponsored by the NDSU Undergraduate Center for Writers and the College of AHSS/Department of English ShakespeareFest Organizing Group)

Did you know that many phrases first put into print by Shakespeare are still in use today? Attend this workshop and learn to write like Shakespeare! Light refreshments served.

(Registration required at <https://www.ndsu.edu/cfwriters/workshops>)

Thursday, February 18: “Assessing the Writing of International Students”

12 pm-1:30 pm Arikara Room, Memorial Union

(Sponsored by the NDSU Undergraduate Center for Writers and the Intensive English Language Program)

Join us as we view and discuss the documentary Writing Across Borders. We will explore such questions as “How should we assess international student writing alongside the writing of native speakers?” Facilitated by Carol Bishop, NDSU Intensive English Language Program Director, and Mary Pull, Undergraduate Center for Writers Director.

(Registration required at <https://www.ndsu.edu/cfwriters/workshops>)

Friday, February 19: “Disquisition Writing Answers”

2 pm-3 pm Lobby of Memorial Union

(Sponsored by the NDSU Graduate Center for Writers and the Graduate School)

Stop by our contact table to have your disquisition writing questions answered by Dan Nygard, Graduate School Disquisition Processor, and a Graduate Center for Writers consultant.

For more information, contact karen.peirce@ndsu.edu