SUBJECT	PERMISSIBLE INQUIRIES	INQUIRIES THAT MUST BE AVOIDED
1. Name	"Have you worked for this company under a different name? Are any additional information relative to change of name, use of an assumed name or nickname necessary to enable a check on your work and educational record? If yes, explain.	Inquiries about the name that would indicate applicant's lineage, ancestry, national origin, or descent. Inquiry into previous name of applicant where it has been changed by court order or otherwise. Indicate: Miss, Mrs., Ms.
2. Marital or family status	Whether applicant can meet specified work schedules or has activities, commitments, or responsibilities that may hinder the meeting of work attendance requirements. Inquiries, made to males and females alike, as to a duration of stay on job or anticipated absences.	Any inquiry indicating whether an applicant is married, single, divorced, engaged, etc. Number and age of children. Information on child-care arrangement. Any questions concerning pregnancy. Any similar question that directly or indirectly results in limitation of job opportunity in any way.
3. Age	If a minor, require proof of age in the form of a work permit or a certificate of age. Require proof of age by birth certificate after being hired. Inquiry as to whether the applicant meets the minimum age requirements as set by law and indication that, on hiring, proof of age must be submitted in the form of a birth certificate or other forms of proof of age. If age is a legal requirement: "If hired, can you furnish proof of age?" or statement that hire is subject to verification of age. Inquiry as to whether an applicant is younger than the employer's regular retirement age.	Requirement that applicant state age or date of birth. Requirement that applicant produce proof of age in the form of a birth certificate or baptismal record. (The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 forbids discrimination against persons aged 40 and older.)
4. Disability	To comply with the provisions of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, employers should avoid questions related to medical conditions and disabilities. ALL applicants can be asked whether they are able to carry out the essential functions of the job with or without reasonable accommodation and perform all duties in a safe manner.	The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 forbid employers from asking job applicants general questions about whether they have a disability or asking them about the nature and severity of their disability. An employer must be prepared to prove that any physical and mental requirements for a job are due to "business necessity" and the safe performance of the job. Except in cases where undue hardship can be proven, employers must make "reasonable accommodations" for the physical and mental limitations of an employee or applicant. Reasonable accommodations" includes alteration of duties, alteration of physical setting, and provision of aids.
5. Sex	Inquiry as to sex or restriction of employment to one sex is permissible only where a bona fide occupational qualification exists. (This BFOQ exception is interpreted very narrowly by the courts and EEOC). The burden of proof rests on the employer to prove that the BFOQ does exist and that all members of the affected class are incapable of performing the job.	Sex of applicant. Any other inquiry that would indicate sex. Sex is not a BFOQ because a job involves physical labor (such as heavy lifting) beyond the capacity of some women, nor can employment be restricted just because the job is traditionally labeled "men's work" or "women's work." Sex cannot be used as a factor for determining whether an applicant will be satisfied in a particular job. Avoid questions concerning applicant's height and weight unless you can prove they are necessary requirements for the job to be performed.
6. Race or Color		Applicant's race. Color of applicant's skin, eyes, hair, or other questions directly or indirectly indicating race or color.
7. Address or Duration of Residence	Applicant's address. Inquiry into place and length of current and previous addresses, e.g., "How long a resident of this state or city?"	Specific inquiry into foreign addresses that would indicate national origin. Names or relationship of persons with whom applicant resides. Whether applicant owns or rents home.
8. Birthplace	See #12.	Birthplace of applicant. Birthplace of applicant's parents, spouse, or other relatives. Requirement that applicant submit a birth certificate of naturalization or baptismal record before employment. Any other inquiry into nation origin.
