LGBT Affirmative Therapy

Tips for creating a more lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, & queer inclusive practice from the AAMFT Queer Affirmative Caucus

Affirmative therapy is:
an approach to therapy that embraces a positive view of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer (LGBTQ) identities and relationships and addresses the negative influences that homophobia, transphobia, and heterosexism have on the lives of LGBTQ clients

“...I want LGBTQ clients to know that I support them and their families. Being affirmative means I treat loving couples, families, and transgender people with the dignity, respect, and affirmation they deserve; they are fine just the way they are.”

Being an affirmative therapist involves:

1. Self-reflection – reflect on your own upbringing, attitudes and beliefs; acknowledge areas of privilege; recognize bias stemming from living in a heteronormative and gender-binaristic society.
2. Get involved – live an affirmative life; become familiar with the issues; strive for social justice and social change.
3. Create an affirmative setting – provide LGBT friendly reading material, literature and resources; include affirming language on all paperwork; use client’s preferred name; don’t resort to heteronormative assumptions, instead ask about a client’s partner.
4. Be open about your commitment to providing affirmative therapy with all clients, regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity.
5. With heterosexual and/or cisgender clients, act as an advocate by challenging heterosexism and the gender binary.

Tips for Affirmative Therapists

1. Talk about your LGBTQ affirmative stance to colleagues, potential clients, family, and friends.
3. Know the LGBTQ resources in your local community.
4. Acknowledge that each person has a unique story related to personal discovery and disclosure of their sexual orientation and/or gender identity.
5. Know the differences between sexual orientation and gender identity.
6. Using correct terminology. When in doubt about how to talk about identity, ask!
7. Ensure that intake forms include a blank option for gender and acknowledge LGBTQ relationships.
8. Access LGBTQ affirmative continuing education trainings and resources for clinical practice.
9. Include gay and lesbian literature in your waiting area.
10. Get involved in LGBTQ community events and activities.
