A $500 PRIZE FOR 4 WINNERS. AND ALL YOU NEED TO DO IS

AN ART CONTEST

FAIL

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

ABOUT CONTEST
In its inaugural art contest, the University Honors Program is seeking NDSU students of all majors and artistic abilities to submit their artistic interpretation of failure. It is seeking proposals for pieces of artwork that will permanently hang in the University Honors Program space in the library. Four winners will be selected and each given $500 to complete their proposed project. The artwork will permanently be displayed in the University Honors Program space. The contest will culminate in a reception celebrating the artwork.

WHAT TO EXPECT
Individual artists or teams will be asked to submit a proposal that has details about how their artwork relates to the concept of “failure.” Candidates will be narrowed to four by a jury. Once selected, the projects will be funded at $500 and expected to complete the work by AUGUST 26.

HOW TO ENTER
Complete the application (found below) and include all relevant information.
