Program Description:
The purpose of this program is to provide valuable academic, social and leadership skills to ensure a successful first year in college. Concepts studied include communication, time management, goal setting, confidence, campus life, leadership, and self-awareness. SLI reflects a learner centered model that utilizes multiple forms of methodologies including experiential, theoretical, practical, and reflective.

Learning Outcomes:
Upon completion of the program, you will:
- Develop a greater sense of self-awareness
- Develop confidence
- Learn collaboration techniques and improve collaboration abilities
- Feel connected to the NDSU community
- Understand how to be successful as a college student
- Gain an understanding of leadership
- Be able to define leadership and understand multiple perspectives regarding leadership
- Learn how to get involved on campus

What you need to know:
- Journaling: Journals will be used to encourage self-reflection.
- Confidants: Each participant will be assigned a confidant for the weekend.
- Families: Each participant will be assigned a family. You will meet with your family throughout the weekend for multiple activities and reflection exercises.
