Faculty and Staff

During academic year 2018-2019, the Departments of Pharmaceutical Sciences and Pharmacy Practice have a combined total of 39 faculty members. The Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences has 13 full-time faculty members. The Department of Pharmacy Practice has 26 full-time faculty members (contributing a total of 21.3 FTE towards instruction in the PharmD Program) and 2 part-time faculty members. As of 2018-2019 there was a total of 34.3 Instructional Faculty FTEs because not all faculty members have teaching responsibilities in the PharmD program. Currently, the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences is in the process of filling two additional positions (Assistant Professors in medicinal chemistry, and pharmaceutical biochemistry), and the Department of Pharmacy Practice is recruiting an additional position (Assistant Professor of Practice in Acute Care).

Part-time faculty/academic staff are used for teaching our students specialized topics such as Principles of Toxicology. This allows students to learn about specialized topics from someone working and conducting research in that field. The College also uses part-time instructors when short on faculty and as interims for open positions when conducting searches for new faculty members. Using qualified part time faculty allows the College to use temporary appointments to teach until-full time positions are filled. Generally, the duration of the temporary contract is for one semester. Part-time faculty submit their CV's for review and must be approved by the Dean prior to teaching, in order to ensure faculty are qualified to teach the class. At present, the College has two part-time faculty members teaching in the professional program.

The Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences is the home of the Center for Diagnostic and Therapeutic Strategies in Pancreatic Cancer, which was established with support from the National Institute of General Medical Sciences, under the Center of Biomedical Research Excellence (COBRE) program (up to $9.6 million over five years). The Center provides start-up funds for new faculty hires.

AACP Survey Data

Members of the faculty were equally divided as to whether the college has sufficient numbers of staff to effectively address programmatic needs. Regarding Question #25 of the 2019 AACP Faculty Survey, 48.5% agree or strongly agree, and 48.5% disagree or strongly disagree, that the college has a sufficient number of staff. The percentage of faculty agreeing is lower than the national average (66.8%) and the average for peer institutions (67.9%).

With regard to number of faculty (Question #30; 2019 AACP Faculty Survey), a majority of faculty (54.6%) either disagreed or strongly disagreed that the college has sufficient numbers to effectively address programmatic needs. This is above the national average of 33.8%, as well as the average for peer institutions (26.8%).

Faculty Workload

Teaching responsibilities are assigned by the department chairs, in consultation with the faculty, based on course to be taught in the professional program and the Pharmaceutical Sciences graduate program. Most positions in the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences are 9-month appointments with distributions of effort (DOE) = 50% research, 40% teaching, and 10% service. Pharmaceutical Sciences faculty members teach, on average, approximately 45 hours per year in the professional PharmD Program. Faculty members also participate in teaching graduate level courses, which may be offered annually or biannually as needed. Other teaching commitments include time spent advising graduate students and participating in departmental seminars in which graduate students present their work.

The Department of Pharmacy Practice (DPP) has a variety of faculty positions with different teaching DOE% ranging from 10% to 100%. Faculty appointments vary from 9- to 12-months with most faculty at 12 months. The Department of Pharmacy Practice adheres to a college workload guidance document for teaching (didactic, clinical and academic advising). In general, faculty in non-tenured positions with clinical sites have the same position descriptions (55% teaching; 10% research/scholarship and 35% service). A 55% DOE for teaching corresponds to 18 workload credits: 6 workload credits for didactic teaching; 10.5 workload for experiential teaching; and 1.5 workload for academic advising (this applies to 5 current faculty).

The average didactic teaching workload in the DPP is 8.7 ± 5.9 workload credits. Vacant positions noted above will have the same teaching distribution/effort as other non-tenured clinical faculty. Responsibilities of remaining DPP faculty vary greatly as their teaching DOE% varies depending on the specific type of position. For example there is a group of faculty that either have designated positions with no practice/clinical site and no administrative duties, Pharmacy Practice Lab-dedicated faculty that support all activity associated with these lab courses, or faculty with a practice/clinical site but are also on tenure-track. Since the last accreditation, the College has added a new Master of Public Health (MPH) program. The MPH program is under the auspices of the Department of Public Health. One faculty member from Pharmacy Practice has a 50% DOE in the MPH program, but this does not interfere with teaching commitments in the PharmD program. That person is also the point person for the PharmD/MPH dual degree program.

In addition to teaching, faculty members typically participate in at least one committee at the department/college level and one at the university level. Faculty also advise and mentor professional and pre-professional students. At present, the college does not have designated faculty responsible for managing and delivering interprofessional education or co-curricular education, both of which are high priorities for ACPE accreditation. Therefore, these tasks are shared by faculty members, increasing their workload, and potentially compromising their ability to devote sufficient time and attention to it.

Faculty workload and needs assessments are reviewed annually during the faculty performance review. Changes in teaching loads, along with individual faculty development plans, are made as needed at that time. A proposed action plan is to ensure that all currently vacant faculty positions are filled in a timely manner, with monitoring of faculty workloads going forward.

The School of Pharmacy lost an Administrative Assistant line due to budget cuts. The workload was covered by another administrative assistant for the 2017-18 academic year, who was then moved over to Pharmacy Practice full-time, thus reducing staff support in Pharmaceutical Sciences. Whether this is a problem, or whether it was necessary trimming, is debatable; nonetheless, the full impact of this change in support has yet to be determined. One proposed action plan is to request that the executive leadership team strategically evaluate the optimal utilization of our staff, e.g. we may have enough numbers of staff, but are they covering the most important tasks, and the tasks that they are best suited for? It is also noted that the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences does not have any technical support staff for maintenance of laboratory equipment.

Student-Faculty Ratio

The SOP accepts a maximum of 85 students per year into the professional pharmacy program, resulting in a total number of approximately 320-340 P1-P4 students at any one time (Early Admissions Program students are not included in this calculation until they reach the P1 year). The student-instructional faculty ratio has ranged from 9 - 10 to 1 during the past three years. This ratio is consistent with the goals set forth by ACPE but will continue to be monitored for any potential adverse changes. Filling the vacant faculty positions should result in an even lower student-instructional faculty ratio. It is anticipated that the new faculty members will join the College on or before August 1, 2020.

Succession Planning

Faculty members discuss different strategies to fill vacant faculty positions. These discussions are based on the need to maintain an adequate number of faculty to teach in the professional PharmD Program effectively. Search committees include faculty members from Pharmaceutical Sciences, Pharmacy Practice, students, staff, and external members when appropriate. Generally, a national search is conducted for all full time faculty positions. Prior to posting the position, the search committee chair is required to attend search training available through the office of the Provost. The search committee is involved in recruiting, screening and interviewing applicants, with particular responsibility for affirmative action efforts to solicit and include applicants from underrepresented and protected groups (NDSU Policy 304 @ https://www.ndsu.edu/policy/section_3_non_banded_staff_employment_faculty_and_other/).

North Dakota State University is fully committed to equal opportunity in employment decisions and educational programs and activities, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and including appropriate affirmative action efforts (NDSU Policy 100 https://www.ndsu.edu/policy/section_1_general_employment/). Recommendations for the finalist(s) occur on the basis of the credentials of the applicant, consensus of the search committee, and faculty input. The two departments also strive to maintain a balance of assistant professors, associate professors and professors. Selection from the group of finalists is the responsibility of the unit administrator and is recommendation of the search committee (NDSU the Policy 103 https://www.ndsu.edu/policy/section 1 general employment/).

4) College or School's Final Self-Evaluation: Self-assess how well the program is in compliance with the standard by putting a check in the appropriate box ☑:

5) Recommended Monitoring: If applicable, briefly describe issues or elements of the standard that may require further monitoring.

Co-curriculum and interprofessional education requirements puts increased pressure on faculty time commitments; thus, monitoring will be necessary to ensure there are sufficient numbers of faculty for the increased workload. Also, faculty members are now taking on a greater role in student advising and mentoring and are thus responsible for advising more students than in the past. How these factors impact faculty workloads will also require monitoring (e.g. track number of hours faculty are spending on advising and interprofessional education activities) during this transition period. Faculty will be surveyed annually by the department chairs and the findings discussed in department meetings. Any recommendations for action will be forwarded to the Dean.

Section A - FTE Totals

Instructions:

Closing figure (June 30)

The terms "filled positions," "vacant positions," "hires," resignations," "retirements," "other losses" (pale blue cells) denote the presence/absence/movements of actual persons, as opposed to "approved positions" and "discontinued positions" which refer to the positions which the school is authorized to fill.

Include Full Time and Part Time Academic Staff (Faculty). For Part Time Academic Staff (Faculty), count only those members with a minimum 0.5FTE employment contract with the college or school. Count the actual FTE (e.g., 1.0 FTE, 0.75 FTE, 0.5 FTE).

If the program is offered over multiple branches or campuses, one copy of this form should be completed for each branch or campus separately Cells shaded GRAY contain a formula; other cells with a 0 require data entry as applicable. The worksheet is PROTECTED to prevent access to cells containing a formula. Data can only be added to unprotected cells (shaded in pale BLUE or YELLOW). To assist you to understand the construction of the worksheet, comments are included (see section for Pharmaceutical Sciences).

Text in RED can or should be re-entered as applicable.

The three closing figures (June 30) of any given year must be the same as the three opening figures (July 1) of the next academic year.

If a resignation or retirement occurs at the end of an academic year (i.e., the position has been filled for all or most of the academic year), the entry can be made in the next academic year to more accurately indicate the impact of the change.

If the worksheet contains a NEGATIVE figure, please re-check your figures. A negative figure could exist under "vacant positions" if the school has more faculty/academic staff in place than there are authorized positions.

If the departmental titles reflected below do not adequately reflect your structure, you may change the titles. If the form does not accommodate your departmental stucture, please contact ACPE.
