SECTION 200

RECRUITMENT FOR PROFESSIONAL STAFF POSITIONS (Banded 1000 and 3000 positions)

SOURCE: NDSU President

1. Recruitment Areas

- 1.1 Full-time 1000-level professional positions require a national search.
- 1.2 Full-time 3000 level professional positions require at least a regional search (a wider search is always an option, if the hiring official wishes.)
- 1.3 Part-time positions in these job bands require only a local search.

2. Recruitment Methods

- 2.1 Recruitment is a critical function for an effective equal opportunity/affirmative action employment program because increased diversity in the applicant pool is essential in order to increase the diversity of people actually employed. With this objective in mind, some potentially fruitful recruitment channels include:
 - 2.1.1 Advertisements in appropriate professional journals, web sites and job registries and/or in The Chronicle of Higher Education. Publications which solicit advertisements on the basis of direct circulation to people from traditionally under-represented groups are generally not a required method for recruiting; however, if applicant pools consistently lack diversity, a publication such as Affirmative Action Register should be considered.
 - 2.1.2 Regional or national meetings of professional organizations and associations; caucuses for women and for people from traditionally under-represented groups associated with professional groups are especially helpful and important.
 - 2.1.3 College/University academic departments and placement offices especially at institutions where the student body is composed primarily of women or people from traditionally under-represented racial/ethnic groups.
 - 2.1.4 Industries, government, independent research institutions, etc., where people from traditionally under-represented racial/ethnic groups or women are professionally engaged.
 - 2.1.5 Directories (usually published annually) of graduates from traditionally under-represented groups.

NOTE: Responsibility for recruitment for professional staff positions is shared jointly by the hiring department and the Office of Human Resources/Payroll. Advertisements in The Chronicle of Higher Education or in professional publications and position announcement mailings are usually done by the hiring department. Only advertisements in selected regional newspapers and notices to the NDSU Career Center office and selected agencies for affirmative action purposes are handled by the Office of Human Resources/Payroll.
