Residence Hall
Association

Volume 1, Issue 5

December 2016

THANK YOU

We would like to take a moment to thank all of the students for contributing to a great semester. The hall governments did a great job orchestrating events within their halls and we would like to thank them for all of the work that went into that. We would also like to thank the students that went to those events as well as the RHA events like the Homecoming Dance and Fallidays to make them successful. Thank you for your effort, good luck with final exams and projects, and enjoy your break! We look forward to seeing you again next semester!

LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES AND REMINDERS

Reminders

This week is Dead Week which is an important time to wrap up the semester and study for final exams.

Starting this Friday, December 9, 24 hour quiet hours will be in place to make sure students have an environment conducive to learning and studying. Make sure you take time to take care of yourself to keep stress at a healthy level.

HALL SPOTLIGHTS

We are going to highlight the great things that have been going on in residence halls around campus. This will include pictures and descriptions of the events to help inspire ideas and reward the students' hard work.

PAVEK

On November 16th Pavek Hall had an event called "Who let the dogs out?" where they invited everyone to come relax and enjoy some quality time with the therapy dogs. The event was a great success with even people from other halls stopping by to play and relax.

MATHEW LIVING LEARNING CENTER

Before our last meeting of the semester, we decided to host a potluck to help students relax and enjoy a meal in a friendly, inviting community. We also encouraged residents to bring their recipes in order to make a community cookbook.

SEVRINSON

On the night of Thursday, December 1st, Sevrinson Hall Gov hosted "Bingo Night", with over $400 worth of prizes.
