

The AgWeek Collective is hard at work planning activities for Ag Week. They have activities in place each day starting Monday April 16 and continuing through Saturday of that week.

One of their events is a Research Poster Symposium and Competition. There will be divisions for both Graduate Students and Undergraduate Students. The Undergraduate Student Poster Symposium will include the Duncan Scholars.

The location of the Symposium will allow for 20-24 posters in total.

The date is Wednesday April 18. The time is 9AM to noon and the place is the Badlands Room on the upper level of the Memorial Union. Each student will need to have their poster in place for before 9:30AM and will need to be with the poster, in order to answer questions, for at least one hour out of the period between 9:30 AM and noon.

A team of judges will evaluate the presentation of the poster and the winners for each division will be announced at the annual Ag Week Banquet which will be on Friday of that week. Winners will be notified prior to the banquet.

Please encourage your students who are involved in research to consider presenting a poster in this event. Please provide (or ask the student to provide) the following information:

Name of student
Graduate or Undergraduate
Name of mentor or advisor
Title of Poster
No abstract is required

Please submit information about participation by Friday March 30. Include the phrase "Poster Symposium" in the Subject line.

In the event that we have more presenters than the room allows, it will be on a first submitted-first served basis with consideration given to having representation from each department.
