

Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Sociology Major
Emphasis: Medical / Aging Sociology

Potential Employers
Healthcare Business and Industry Medical Service Organizations Educational Institutions Faith-based Organizations	Government Agencies Government Health Departments Non-profit Health Organizations Philanthropic Foundations

Job Titles/Fields
Program Manager Health Sector Education Sector Development Peace Corps Volunteer Public Health Specialists	Aging Service Provider Ambulatory Facility Manager Congregate Living Facility Manager Emergency Medical Services Specialist LTC Recreational Specialist LTC Administration

Primary Emphasis Courses in Sociology
SOC 417 Sociology of Family SOC 418 Social Psychology SOC 426 Sociology of Medicine SOC 440 Sociology of Aging SOC 441 Death and Dying
Secondary Emphasis Courses in Sociology
SOC 404 Community Assessment SOC 410 Social Inequality SOC 412 Sociology of Gender SOC 439 Social Change SOC 496 Field Experience/Internship
Other Recommended Courses
ACCT 102 Fundamentals of Accounting BUSN 350 Foundations of Management * BUSN 383 Organizational Communication I CDFS 460 Adult Development and Aging CDFS 482 Family Dynamics of Aging COMM 370 Principles of Public Relations ECON 201 Principles of Microeconomics HNES 217 Personal and Community Health MGMT 301 Management for Non-business Majors MGMT 330 Foundations of Organizational Behavior * MGMT 430 Leadership in Organizations * POLS 422 State and Local Politics

* May require standing within the College of Business

Knowledge and Skill Portfolio

Skills

Computer Word Processing Skills
Computer Spreadsheet Skills
Computer Statistical Analysis Skills
Communication Skills: Report writing
Communications Skills: Speaking; Presentations
Critical Thinking: developing evidence-based arguments
Demographics Skills
Geographic Information Systems
Grant-writing Skills
Organizational Skills: Organizing people, schedules, time management
People Skills: Networking, Leadership, Interpersonal relations, Teamwork
Professional Ethics

Knowledge

Research, Evaluation, Assessment
Theoretical and Conceptual Frameworks
Professional and Practice Ethics
Cultural Diversity
Human and Economic Development
Healthcare Systems and Practice of Medicine
Public Health Administration