ABOUT

▪ The Campus Well-being Educator (CWEs) Program is dedicated to promoting healthy lifestyle choices to NDSU students through health and well-being programming and campus outreach with support of the President’s Council for Campus Well-being.
▪ The CWE peer education program is housed in NDSU Student Health Service and works closely with the Health Promotion team.
▪ CWEs focus on important student health and well-being topics such as nutrition, exercise, improving mental health, general well-being and more!
▪ CWEs are students who serve as leaders and role models to fellow students and encourage others to make responsible and healthy lifestyle choices.
▪ CWEs exhibit a passion for health and well-being with a willingness to serve as a role model for other students.
