In order to receive points for participating in class you must have fully completed the Turning Technologies registration process. To verify the status or update your Turning account:

1. Log into Blackboard
2. Select the course where you are using clickers
3. Select Tools from the course menu
4. Select the Turning Account Registration tool
5. Log into your Turning Account

Verify that you have a valid license

If you do not have a green check mark, select the license icon and select add a license.

If you already have a license card (either included with your QT device or purchased at the NDSU bookstore) enter the code and select Redeem, OR:

If you need to purchase a license, select Purchase a License and complete your license purchase online, or purchase a license card at the NDSU Bookstore and redeem the code.

If you see a green check mark showing in the license box, you have a verified the license and should continue to verify your device ID.

Select Dashboard from the left menu to verify or add a device ID.

Verify you have entered your device ID

If you are participating in class with an NXT or QT device, you must enter the device ID of that device. Entering a device id is not required if only using ResponseWare.

If you do not have a green check mark, select the device icon and select add a device.

Enter the device ID found on the back of your clicker and select Redeem.

If you see a green check mark showing in the device ID box and you have verified the ID from your device matches the ID entered in your account, you have a verified the license and should continue to verify your learning management information.

Verify your Turning account is associated with your Blackboard account

If you accessed your Turning account via Blackboard as instructed above, your accounts will sync automatically and no additional action is required.

If you do not have a green check mark, log out of your Turning account and log in via the steps at the top of the page.

If you see a green check mark showing in the learning management system box, you have a verified the information and you have completed the verification process.
