This page contains a campus map of North Dakota State University (NDSU). The map includes various departments, buildings, and facilities, along with their corresponding locations. The map is useful for navigating the university campus and understanding the layout of the facilities. The map highlights different sections such as research centers, student affairs, and administrative offices. The map is color-coded to distinguish between various types of facilities and departments. Additional details such as parking information, emergency contact numbers, and building access points are also included. The map is a valuable resource for students, faculty, and visitors to familiarize themselves with the campus layout.