CLOSING

Program Speakers

PAULO FLORES
Faculty representative

Paulo Flores is an associate professor of precision agriculture in NDSU's Department of Agricultural and Biosystems Engineering. His lifelong connection to agriculture and passion for technology led to a career combining agriculture, technology, research and education.

Since joining NDSU, Flores has developed several undergraduate and graduate courses and advised approximately 40 undergraduate students. He is a firm believer in learning by doing and is always looking for new ways to provide hands-on experiences for students. His teaching emphasizes understanding the principles behind agricultural technologies rather than simply learning a particular brand or system, which gives students the foundation to adapt and critically evaluate new technologies throughout their careers.

Flores's research uses drones, sensors, imagery and emerging technologies to address agricultural challenges while creating opportunities for students to participate in applied research. He is also actively involved in student recruitment and developing new hands-on learning opportunities for students.

DAVE AND TERRI BETH DUFAULT
Donor representatives

Dave and Terri Beth Dufault both began their college education at NDSU. Dave earned his degree from NDSU, and Terri Beth went on to complete a degree in legal administration at the University of Minnesota Crookston.

Dave has spent the past 40 years working in the agricultural retail industry. He began his career as an agronomist with the JR Simplot Company and finished his career as vice president and general manager of the AgriBusiness Retail Division. Throughout his career, Dave served on many boards representing agricultural retailers in a variety of capacities across the country. Today, Dave works at Prairieland Ag Inc., a Fargo-based strategic purchasing organization that represents over 70 independent agricultural retailers across the upper Midwest.

After completing her degree, Terri Beth built a successful career in the legal field, serving in several roles in Northwest Minnesota and Idaho. She was instrumental in bringing new systems and technology to the firms she represented, providing greater efficiency for the organizations and their clients.

Dave and Terri Beth enjoy living in the lakes country of Minnesota and everything it offers, including spending time with their adult children and several grandchildren.

ANNA HAUGE
Student representative

Anna Hauge is a senior at NDSU majoring in agribusiness and applied economics with a minor in pre-law. She plans to continue her education in law school, pursuing a juris doctorate with an emphasis in agricultural law, to support farmers, rural communities and the future of American agriculture.

Raised on her family's farm in southwestern North Dakota, Hauge developed a strong work ethic and a deep appreciation for the agricultural industry. Her leadership journey began early with FFA. During her freshman year of college, she served as a North Dakota FFA State Officer.

Hauge is highly involved on campus with Student Government, Saddle and Sirloin Club, Agribusiness Club, Blue Key Honor Society and Ag Ambassadors. Her experiences reflect her strong commitment to leadership, service and scholarship, values which continue to guide her academic and professional aspirations.
