North Dakota State University provided the essential undergraduate education that transformed a rural western North Dakota ranch girl into a dietetics professional. I owe a debt of gratitude to NDSU for the learning environment as well as social environment that served as the building blocks for my career. With the emphasis on advancing dietetics through the creating and use of research, this fund is intended to provide support for students that effectively apply research principles in dietetics.

This scholarship was initiated by the family of Jean and Lisa Pederson soon after their tragic deaths in a car accident in 1975. Jean joined the faculty at NDSU in 1970 as a part-time instructor in Family Relations. This memorial fund has been established to contribute to present and future students in the areas of Family Relations and Human Development at NDSU, a group to whom Jean Pederson was so devoted.

This scholarship was created in the memory of Clair O. Southam, 1961, his son, John E. "Jack" Southam, 1956, and his wife, Roberta E. Southam, 1958. The Southam family owned and operated the City Drug Store, in Mohall, ND for over 50 years. Clair, Jack and Roberta believed in the future of pharmacy, leadership, community involvement and educated many students during rotations.

Establishing a scholarship for North Dakota pharmacy students is our way of giving back to the college and profession that has given us so much. We hope that our scholarship will allow future students to be able to commit to the profession and encourage active involvement to stay ahead of the ever-changing world of pharmacy.
